MAN SNAPS
HIS WILLY
DURING SOUTH PARK
SEX ACT

By BRAD CHADWICK

A MAN was left in agony after he "snapped" his penis during what's been described as the world's riskiest sex position. The unfortunate fella, 37, suffered the mishap while his partner was riding him in the so-called "reverse cowgirl" sex position – an act which has been immortalised in the adult cartoon show South Park.

Tories plan election in autumn '24

DOWNING Street is planning an autumn 2024 general election, believing a vote later that year brings the best chance of pulling off a Tory victory.

October and November next year have been provisionally circled by Rishi Sunak's team for the nationwide vote, which would mean the electorate deciding two years into his premiership.

Well-placed sources believe going late maximises the chance of the economy improving and a new small-boats law taking effect to bring down English Channel crossing numbers, boosting Tory leader Mr Sunak (above).

It would also allow for more time to close the polling gap on Labour – the Tories are 18 percentage points behind on polling average trackers, down from 24 points when Mr Sunak took over in October 2022.

Interest rate is expected to fall

INTEREST rates in major economies are expected to fall to pre-pandemic levels because of low productivity and ageing populations.

The International Monetary Fund said that increases in borrowing costs are likely to be "temporary" once high inflation is brought under control.

The Bank of England has been raising interest rates since December 2021, taking them from 0.1% to 4.25%.

This has raised mortgage payments to almost crippling levels for many UK homeowners.

JOE'S GONE TO ICELAND

President confused as he arrives for historic visit

POOR, bewildered Joe Biden forgot that he was travelling to Ireland and thought that Air Force One was whisking him to ICELAND last night.

Thankfully, Secret Service agents managed to put the 80-year-old right before he got off the presidential plane.

President Biden has said he will emphasise his country's "commitment to preserving peace" in Northern Ireland during his visit to the province.

He arrived yesterday evening in the city to mark the 25th anniversary of the Good Friday peace agreement. The 1998 deal brought an end to the Troubles – the decades-long violent conflict in Northern Ireland in which thousands of people were killed.

Mr Biden said he was looking forward to commemorating the anniversary, adding: "Twenty-five years ago, Northern Ireland's leaders chose peace."

"The Belfast/Good Friday Agreement ended decades of violence and brought stability.

"I look forward to marking the anniversary in Belfast, underscoring the US commitment to preserving peace and encouraging prosperity."

A White House spokesman said President Biden had been very excited about visiting Ireland for quite some time.

While Mr Biden will praise what politicians did in 1998, his visit is overshadowed by the fact Northern Ireland's power-sharing government is not functioning.

It collapsed last year when the Democratic Unionist Party – one of the biggest parties at Stormont – pulled out as part of a protest against post-Brexit trade rules for Northern Ireland.

A major security operation is in place ahead of Mr Biden's visit.

Tupperware is on the brink as shares plunge

TUPPERWARE, the US-maker of food storage containers, has warned that it could go bust unless it can quickly raise new financing.

Shares in the 77-year-old firm plunged on Monday after it said there was "substantial doubt about its ability to continue as a going concern".

Tupperware has been attempting to reposition itself to a younger audience.

However, it has failed to stop a slide in its sales.

The firm became well-known in the 1950s and 60s when many people held "Tupperware parties" in their homes to sell plastic containers for food storage.

Tupperware still employs a direct sales force, who earn a percentage of all the goods they sell, as well as selling goods on its website.

It recently started selling its products in US retail chain Target in an attempt to entice younger shoppers.

It has also expanded its range into cooking products, such as a grill that works in a microwave.

Probe leads to CBI boss axe

THE boss of one of the UK's largest business groups has been fired after an investigation into complaints about his conduct at work.

Tony Danker will leave the CBI with immediate effect and be replaced by Rain Newton-Smith.

It follows allegations over Mr Danker's conduct involving a female worker.

Three other CBI employees have also been suspended "pending further investigation into a number of ongoing allegations", the group said.

It added that the lobby group is "liaising with the police and has made clear its intention to co-operate fully with any police investigations".

Mr Danker stepped aside last month.

DOCTOR ON CALL STRIKE!

NHS faces massive disruption as medics walk out

AN NHS boss has pleaded for the Government and unions to resolve the strike amid "massive disruption" at his own hospital trust.

Kevin McGee, chief exec of Lancashire Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust which runs hospitals in Preston and Chorley, told the BBC he has had to stand down some cancer services to prioritise emergency care.

Speaking to BBC Radio 4's Today programme, he said: "What I would say to all parties, is please please get round the table and resolve this strike. Every strike we have will put more pressure onto the system.

"Some of the goodwill we've had in terms of trying to cover rotas... each strike we have, more of that is eroded. So we've got to get a resolution sooner rather than later."

He explained it will take a number of days for the trust to recover and apologised to patients who may have to wait several weeks to be seen after their appointments have been cancelled.

More than a quarter of a million appointments and operations could be cancelled, and some hospitals say up to half of planned treatment will be affected.

Junior doctors previously staged a walkout on March 13-15 which led to 175,000 outpatient appointments and operations being rescheduled.

MORE SUPPORT FOR TRADESMEN

A CHARITY which offers help to builders and other tradespeople is expanding its support after figures indicated the suicide rate among construction workers in the UK has increased for the fifth year in a row.

Band of Builders is offering information and help on mental health and wellbeing issues.

It reported that figures from Glasgow Caledonian University in conjunction with the Lighthouse Construction Industry Charity found the suicide rate for construction occupations in seeking help.

Spokesman Peter Cape said the charity has been compelled to increase the provision it offers in a bid to turn the tide of the mental health crisis in the construction industry.

He said: "Band of Builders has a very active community of nearly 50,000 tradespeople across the UK, and they share so many heart-breaking stories of people who have been lost, are facing some very serious situations or are generally struggling."

2021 rose to 33.82 per 100,000 from 25.52 per 100,000 in 2015.

The charity is encouraging tradespeople who experience anxiety, depression, loneliness, relationship issues, self-harm, suicidal thoughts or any other trauma to take the first step of

"Swallowing is really a good thing... it's got a lot of protein," the Dirty singer told listeners on the show, adding, "there is something to be said for doing so after you put in the hard work."

As the 42-year-old continued to give tips, she noted that it is "really important to be with a partner where you can really explore".

She said: "Sexuality is a very specific thing, so, like, what one guy might like, another one doesn't. "There are some guys that don't like their balls being touched, and there are some that like brutal things happening to them.

The Colombian officer is a global sensation, racking up more than 700,000 followers on TikTok by showing off her arresting looks in her figure-hugging uniform.

Narvaez, 28, also shares dance videos and bikini selfies, with fawning followers fantasising about being locked up by her.

One recent video, which sees her flaunting her curves, raked in an incredible three million views and a flurry of kinky comments.

One said: "I'd get a speeding ticket every week!" adding that he'd love to be pulled over and handcuffed by the beauty.

Madonna set for return to 'natural' look

MADONNA is looking to do whatever it takes to get her natural appearance back ahead of her highly anticipated world tour, according to a report.

The so-called Queen Mum of Pop, 64 (above), faced endless criticism following her brief appearance at the Grammys in February, where she modelled a striking new look on stage.

After clapping back at haters following a slew of plastic surgery rumours, Madge said she was deeply "affected" by comments made by naysayers and is looking to switch up her look again.

"Despite what people think, the criticism over her drastically different appearance does affect her," a source said.

The insider added that the Like a Prayer hitmaker is undergoing procedures that will restore her natural features.

Married emergency call girl caught sexting SEVEN cops

A POLICE dispatcher has been suspended after her husband caught her sexting SEVEN officers, including two she was having affairs with – and her boss is now investigating whether some of the hanky-panky took place on duty.

Krystle Perez, 38, who took overnight emergency calls at the Bexar County Sheriff's Office in San Antonio, Texas, was placed on unpaid leave after her husband, Giancarlo, found racy messages on her phone.

Along with Perez, Sgt Renaldo Salinas and Deputy Juan Leal – who have also been suspended – face the sack over the scandal.

"Their conduct, according to the investigation, was found to be egregious enough where we would issue proposed terminations," Sheriff Javier Salazar said.

Giancarlo Perez said he discovered the salacious texts between his wife and six Bexar County deputies and an officer with the City of Converse Police Department.

Hot

"I feel so hot and sexy when I'm in you," Salinas reportedly wrote to Perez.

"I can feel it... all of it... and I love it," the dispatcher replied, according to one screen grab.

"We need another hotel day," the sergeant wrote, to which she replied: "Yes!"

Leal also wrote to Perez: "I can't wait for us to be naked and us caressing each other and then kissing each other all over!"

"Fk yes!" she replied.

S CLUB 7 singer Jo O'Meara has thanked the public for their "love and kindness" following the shock death of her bandmate Paul Cattermole aged just 46 last week.

On Instagram she wrote: "I just wanted to reach out and thank everybody from the bottom of my heart for the love and kindness you have shown over the tragic passing of our sweetest soul Paul."

"This has been utterly devastating, I am totally shocked and heartbroken."

"We have lost someone so incredibly special to us all, and there is a huge sense of sadness that will never go."

"Paul will forever be a huge part of our lives, and I will forever treasure the memories we made. God bless you my darling, rest in peace. Love JoJo."

The band's official Instagram account shared a message on Saturday thanking fans for their love and support following the singer's death.

Paul was found dead on Thursday afternoon at his home in Dorset.

The unusual call-out to Keswick Mountain Rescue Team over the Easter weekend came after concerned hikers noticed some of the party had fallen ill from taking the psychedelic fungi.

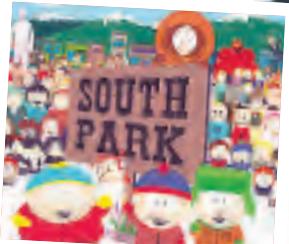

They dispatched an 11-strong team to the valley path from Styhead Tarn towards Seathwaite in Borrowdale in the Lake District and found two of the group feeling unwell.

Rescuers walked the unsteady revellers down to safety during a two-hour operation, then offered advice as the group's driver was one of those feeling queasy from the effects of 'shrooms.'

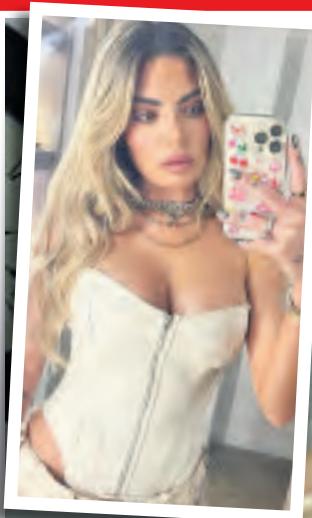

A spokesman said: "The casualties were walked down and given advice on the timing of their onward travel."

RISKY BUSINESS: Reverse cowgirl

A MAN had to undergo emergency surgery after fracturing his penis while performing a notoriously risky sex position, which left him with a knob swollen like an aubergine.

A study detailing the accident was published recently in the journal Urology Case Reports.

The freak accident occurred while the unnamed 37-year-old male was having intercourse in the reverse cowgirl position, where the woman is on top and facing away from her partner.

The sex position is so notorious it was even the name of a 2012 South Park episode.

According to TikTok star Dr Karan Raj, this is the "world's most dangerous" sex pose, responsible for 50% of cock fractures.

Things went wrong when the man suddenly heard a loud cracking sound followed by pain, discomfort and a loss of erection.

Soon after, the man began bleeding out of the tip of his penis and found himself unable to wee.

Swollen

Realising something had gone badly wrong, the frightened fellow went to the General Hospital of West Nusa in Tenggara Province in Indonesia.

By that time, his penis had swollen and turned deep purple, in a condition known in medical terms as "eggplant deformity" – a telltale sign of a break.

Eggplant is the name less-advanced nations give to the aubergine.

While the penis is technically boneless, the word "fracture" is used to describe a tear in the tunica albuginea – the tissue that allows the penis to become erect. An examination then confirmed the patient had a "wide and deep fracture to the penis" while the penile tissue had ruptured as well.

The man had also suffered a haematoma – an injury to the wall of the blood vessel which had caused blood to leak out into the surrounding tissue.

Study authors said such phallic fractures occur when the erect penis buckles after it hits the perineum or pubic bone firmly during vigorous sex activity".

Reverse cowgirl is a risky position because a man's penis can slip out and be crushed by his partner's pubic bone during thrusting, Dr Karan Raj said in an online video.

However, it can also be caused by wanking and even turning over in bed at an awkward angle, he added.

Thankfully, surgeons were able to go in and repair the patient's fractured cock without further incident, after which they stitched up his urethra and carefully bandaged the wound.

It's unknown how soon the patient was back in the saddle.

Fake copper busted by a real officer

A TEEN pretending to be a police officer was busted when he tried to pull over a REAL cop.

Christian Katan Mansoor, 18 (above), kitted out his silver BMW with flashing red and blue lights in an attempt to pass himself off as a policeman.

The teen is accused of activating the fake sirens while behind another car in order to conduct a traffic stop in Rochester Hills, Detroit.

Mansoor's victim, an off-duty officer from a neighbouring town, instead drove away and called him in as a police impersonator.

Confronted

The unnamed officer followed Mansoor and confronted him when he got out of his car.

When she identified herself as a cop, he said he was a Detroit officer.

When pushed for identification, Mansoor promised to retrieve it from his car, but instead hopped in it and sped away.

He was arrested after a short chase and has since been charged with impersonating a public officer.

Help! There is a snake up my bum

A MAN went to hospital claiming a SNAKE crawled up his ARSE while he was having a shit.

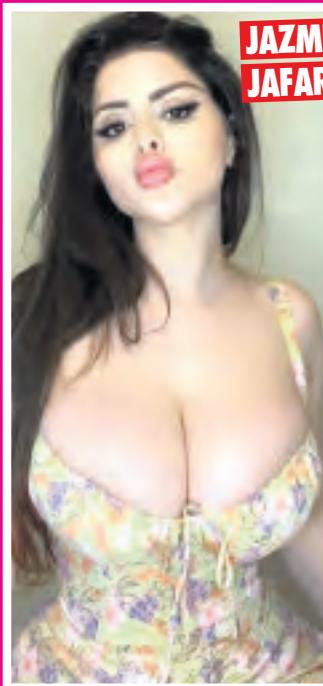

The bizarre case quickly drew the attention of medical staff, who examined him thoroughly but could not find any evidence of a snake bite or a foreign object in his body.

Despite the medical reassurance, family members insisted on transferring the young man to another hospital for a second opinion.

After examining him, the doctors said he was under the influence of drugs and discharged him the next morning.

"The man appeared to be under the influence of drugs and complaining of abdominal pain, which happens with drug use," said Dr Sher Singh of Hardoi Medical College in India.

"He underwent a CT scan, and there was no snake up his arse."

Men adding length with cock 'n' bull

RESEARCHERS have found the average man exaggerates the length of his penis by around 20 percent.

While the average cock is now longer than in previous years, boffins found that many fellas are lying to an exorbitant degree.

In their survey of 224 men, 26 said their penis was more than 12ins long, and one brave chap even said his knob was more than a half-mile!

They also slightly fib about their height – adding an inch, on average.

Researchers in Denmark, who published their findings in the journal Frontiers in Psychology, went into the study with the aim of proving the age-old suspicion that men lie about their physical attributes.

Real-life Bonnie had record

By ABBIE HEY
news@sundaysport.co.uk

A PENSIONER with a history of holdups and with the first name BONNIE was arrested for trying to rob a bank.

Bonnie Gooch, 78, was cuffed after cops spotted a car matching the suspect vehicle description driving a few hundred yards from the bank following the attempted heist and pulled it over.

They found Gooch behind the wheel and evidence inside the car that linked her to the bank robbery.

Shocking

"Obviously it was a tense situation," Police Chief Thomas Wright said. "But when the hands of an elderly woman come out of the car and that is who is driving the suspect vehicle, it's a little shocking."

Gooch was taken into custody outside Goppert Financial Bank in Pleasant Hill, Michigan without incident.

The septuagenarian has been accused of bank robberies in the past.

In 2020, Gooch, then 75, was arrested for a different bank theft and was later convicted.

At the time, her son said his mother "was off her rocker" and had left the house "angry, saying she was going to rob a bank". Gooch's sentence for that first crime was suspended, and she was released on supervised probation which expired in November 2021.

DEPARTM

In that robbery and this new one, Gooch handed a note to bank cashiers, police said.

She also was convicted of bank robbery in her younger years, according to the 2020 criminal complaint.

In 1977, Gooch was found guilty of bank robbery in California. She would have been around 32 at the time of that crime.

Wright said his team is evaluating whether the OAP needs services as her case moves through the criminal justice system.

A police source said: "She's Bonnie – without the Clyde... and really old."

Intruder tried to give cops the slip

A NAKED, bloody, and slippery man was arrested after he broke into multiple homes, covered himself in peppermint oil, jumped on a trampoline, and went swimming in someone's pool.

Cops raced to the scene after reports of a burglary in process at a home in DeBary, Florida.

There, they spotted Blake Allen Tokman, 34, who was naked in the back yard of a second house.

He took off running, jumped in the pool, then climbed out and leapt onto a trampoline, where he laid flat but resisted attempts to secure him in handcuffs, officials said.

It took four cops to get Tokman into custody and three additional medics to secure him to a stretcher so he could be evaluated and treated for a series of injuries he caused himself.

TIKTOK DOC'S FANNY COCKROACH REMOVAL

A GYNAECOLOGIST was flabbergasted to find a cockroach lurking inside a patient's vagina.

"She said she had something unusual in her vagina," Dr Marco Cálix, a medical expert based in Tegucigalpa, Honduras, said.

The gyno is a star in the online gynaecology community, frequently documenting his most unusual or shocking cases for his 386,000 fans on TikTok, where his posts have gained 1.2m likes.

However, a recent appointment took things to a "whole other level," Dr. Cálix (pictured) said.

The doc described how the unnamed patient, from a rural part of the country, arrived at his clinic "extremely restless, agitated and sweaty".

She explained how she'd had trouble sleeping due to something "extremely strange" in her vagina.

A subsequent inspection revealed the shocking culprit behind her discomfort.

It's not yet clear how the roach, which was reportedly dead before he removed it, managed to get there.

– and it caused a bit of a stir.

Many viewers were shocked to see a group of adults strip fully naked in front of teens.

The show is promoted as being “all about body positivity” with celeb presenters Anna Richardson, former Love Island contestant Dr Alex George and Yinka Bokinni who are “on a mission to normalise all body types, champion our differences and break down stereotypes”.

The programme shows what different bodies look like – to help quell people’s insecurities – but some viewers took to social media to express their disgust at adults stripping naked in front of kids as part of this quest.

Here at The Midweek Sport, we’re big on body positivity.

We always feel very positive indeed when we see lovely ladies in the altogether.

'I love ripping a guy's clothes off for the first time'

I FANTASISE all the time about getting it on with random strangers.

There's no greater thrill than ripping each other's clothes off for the very first time.

I kind of lose interest in a relationship after a while and I admit to having a bit of a roving eye.

But I'm only 23 and I think that's only natural!

I'm quite a flirty person and I've no qualms about being suggestive with any hot guy I see, whether he's in a bar, in the supermarket, delivering a parcel or doing some work at my house.

It's a bit sad really that some Brits are so uptight and mainly only pull when they're pissed in a nightclub.

When I go clubbing I like to focus on having a laugh with my girlie mates.

And when I've been blind drunk I can't say I've made wise choices on the men front!

Blokes are always quite taken aback if I get flirty in other scenarios, and I admit I like causing a shock!

I had really hot sex with a mechanic who fixed my car once. He came round to mine on his lunch break and got under my bonnet!

Another time I pulled my dentist and my friends think this is hilarious.

But what can I say? If you fancy someone, then why not let them know? Life's too short for fannying about!

HOT 'N' HORNY

NEW babe Ami Hannah was GUTTED when Peaky Blinders came to an end.

The 36DD cracker said the BBC series did wonders for her home city of Birmingham.

She said: "There's not really been a drama set in Birmingham since Crossroads back in the Seventies and I'm glad to say that Peaky Blinders is not at all like Crossroads."

She added: "Birmingham is sometimes overlooked culturally but we've brought the world Jasper Carrott, Black Sabbath and, er, Jasper Carrott."

JUSTIN DUNN'S ROOM 101

WHAT'S ANNOYING HIM THIS WEEK?

So where should we put all the illegal migrants?

THIS is the question for those encouraging as many people as possible to risk their lives on dodgy dinghies in the English Channel, that pretty much all of us would like an answer to.

If not on a barge, or a three or four-star hotel, or a converted army barracks we've previously been content to house our own soldiers in, where then, exactly, would the bleeding hearts brigade want our illegal immigrants to go?

I'm not talking about Ukrainian women and children fleeing Putin's raging war.

Or people rightly running away from the dreadful Chinese oppression in Hong Kong.

Or indeed, any genuine people from actual countries who carry their paperwork and now only have a bomb crater to call home.

They are not illegal. They have come through the proper channels.

They really are what we describe as "refugees".

And they, of course, need help.

But simply seeking out a life where all your bills are paid, your housing secured, your doctors and dentists are on call and your food, mobile phone and clothing are all sorted, absolutely do not.

Piss

They just need reminding they have no real reason to be in Britain other than they'd like to be, that they're taking the piss, and that the money we're chucking at them would be better spent on our own existing homegrown problems, thanks very much.

We know that the overwhelming majority of illegal immigrants are not dangerous.

But they're still illegal.

They have swerved any sense of "the law" by breaking into the UK, so why are the usual suspects so desperate to express their love and concern for them?

It's a fair question, because all we hear from the do-gooders are hand-wringing complaints on behalf of their bezzies from overseas – but never a single solution.

They have no problem dispersing the illegals around the country into hotels in places that are far enough away from themselves that it's not a problem for them.

And, of course, anyone living in these villages and towns who then suddenly find the population overnight has more illegal immigrants than it has actual villagers, and dare to wonder why, are then immediately denounced as "racists".

So, come on then, leftie liberals.

Tell us where you think these law-breakers with no provenance, no history, and no paperwork, should actually go?

Would it be to THEIR house?

I know one of these care charity bosses. She lives in a rather lovely detached house in a very leafy, very affluent place just a few miles down the road from me.

"Leafy and affluent" seems to act for them like the proverbial apple a day for the doctor – it keeps the illegals away.

No, they've all been deliberately stuffed into poorer neighbourhoods instead, mostly across the North, and that ain't gonna change any time soon.

Consulted

The poor, of course, never asked for this. And they certainly weren't consulted over it, either.

Nor were the rest of us ever asked if we minded spending more than £7million a DAY in the middle of a cost of living crisis just to put these people up.

"They're running away from persecution," weep the charities, without providing a scrap of evidence to prove it – mainly because it's all been thrown into the sea.

There is an answer, though.

Anyone encouraging illegals to come to this country should be forced to house them in their own spare bedrooms, west wings, or second homes.

But don't hold your breath on that notion.

The truth is that we are now the dormmats, and they are the dirty shoes.

Man killed 'informant' crime pal

A MAN who was found buried in a "clandestine grave" beneath an apartment building was killed months ago by his partner-in-crime who believed he was a police informant.

The body of Karl Beaman Jr, 36, was found under a slab of concrete in a crawlspace at the flat block by cops, according to the Aurora, Colorado, Police Department.

Haskel Crawford, 38 (above), was arrested and charged with murdering Beaman six to eight months ago.

The mother of his children, 29-year-old Casie Bock, was held last week and charged with accessory to homicide as she helped Crawford hide the body.

On April 1, police received a call from one of Beaman's relatives who was concerned they hadn't heard from him since last May.

The relative told cops they'd hired a private investigator who said the disappearance may be tied to Crawford, as he and Beaman had been caught stealing catalytic converters.

Nut jailed for hen massacre

A MAN who sneaked onto his neighbour's property to scare hundreds of chickens to death as part of a deranged revenge scheme has been jailed.

The man was convicted of using a flashing light to terrify the birds - causing them to kill one another.

The flashing light caused the panic-stricken flock to crowd into a corner of the coop, where they trampled over one another trying to escape.

The first time the man - only named as Gu - trespassed, 500 of the chickens were trampled to death and he was caught by police in China's Hunan province.

Gu was ordered to pay his neighbour £350 which only infuriated the crazed man.

He returned and carried out the attack a second time.

Authorities say a total of 1,100 chickens were killed in the two massacres.

AFTER A HARD DAY TAKING COCK, MAITLAND EVEN LOOKS GOOD WHEN SHE'S...

WE all feel a bit drained after a hard day at work...

But not all of us spend our working life taking hard COCK in every hole and being showered by SPUNK!

Maitland Ward does - and she still looks pretty as a picture after putting in the hours as one of the world's top porn stars.

Actress turned porn legend Maitland cheekily told fans she had a "good day" on set.

The red-haired beauty shared some nippy snaps on Instagram following a day at the office.

She shared the pictures alongside the caption: "It was a good day #setlife."

The ex-Disney actress shot to fame years ago when she starred in hit TV show Boy Meets World.

Anal

Now she sets pulses racing with her porn, which includes full, oral, anal and even double penetration.

In her latest pictures she posed wearing black trousers and even went braless beneath a cream top.

Fans were quick to tell Maitland how amazing they thought she looked.

One person said: "Feeling nippy?"

Another added: "Whoop. Looking forward to what you're going to treat us with. No doubt it's going to be epic."

And a third commented: "Literally the hottest adult star I've ever seen."

Earlier this month, the babe opened up about using OnlyFans.

She told Factz.com haters are "jealous" because they want the money and success for themselves.

The Yank beauty, 46, claimed women on the platform are "building their futures" and achieving dreams through the site.

Talking about the issue, Maitland, who joined the porn industry back in 2019, said: "I totally think it's empowerment."

"If women want to do OnlyFans, it's empowerment."

THE WORLD FAMOUS AGONY Page

Dear Tess,

I WORK for a delivery firm and take parcels all over the country. Over the years I have built up quite a regular "round" of online shoppers.

And I have one or two ladies who have come to expect a "special" delivery from me.

My favourite is a blonde who is younger than me but willingly spreads 'em every time I call.

Recently, I was dropping off a parcel for her – which turned out to be a copy of the Kama Sutra.

She thumbed through it and had us both naked in an instant.

She was surprisingly moist and guided my eight-incher inside her. Then I rammed her good and hard, just how she likes it. Now she wants me to go through the book with her, but she lives miles away from me – and I'm married.

What shall I do?

KS, Cumbria

Tess says...
KEEP shagging, the Kama Sutra will spice up your sex life at home too.

Dear Tess,

I TOOK up cycling during the lockdown and it's totally changed my luck with women.

I spotted a busty blonde out for a walk the other week as I went for a ride around some country lanes.

At first I pretended there was something wrong with my bike and stopped near her.

We got chatting and I ended up doing her in the field behind a hedge where we couldn't be seen.

And a couple of nights ago I saw a tasty brunette out for a ride – and I pulled her, too!

She gave great head and loved it doggy-style.

The problem is, after all this cycling and shagging I've done my back in and now I can't go out for a ride.

What should I do?

RD, west Midlands

Tess says...
GO for a walk and see if you get lucky.

Big-boobed stunna cheated on me with big-belly bloke

Dear Tess,

I'M 24 and my girlfriend is 20. She's a beautiful, blonde, with big boobs and a tiny, firm arse.

All my mates are dead jealous and I've even noticed the fat, old fellas up the road eyeing her up.

Last week I got home from work early and heard strange noises coming from our bedroom upstairs.

I thought it might be a burglar, so I crept up the stairs ready to have a go at whoever was there.

But I got a shock when I got to the bedroom. The door was slightly ajar and I could see this big bloke doing my bird!

His massive, hairy belly slapped against her perfect bum and his hands gripped her waist as he pounded her from behind.

She seemed to be loving it as he banged away for what seemed an age.

Then he laid her on her back and rammed her hard before eventually shooting his load on her tits.

I left without them noticing and now I've got a big decision to make.

Should I tell her I know and risk losing a beautiful blonde with an amazing body?

Or should I keep quiet and keep the peace?

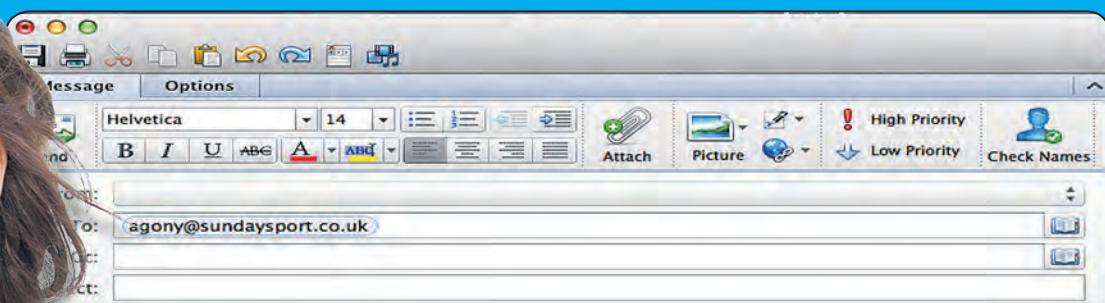

NG, Cornwall

Tess says...

FIND yourself another stunna as soon as possible.

AGONY IS BROUGHT TO YOU IN ASSOCIATION

WELCOME to the World famous Sport Agony page! No other newspaper's agony aunts can offer the level of advice – or experience – than our own Agony Angels! This week TESS O'REILLY has been reading through your letters. And here's her advice for you...

Sex tape viewing led to a thrilling threesome

Dear Tess,

MY boyfriend asked me if he could film us in bed and I thought "Why not?"

Although I'm 45, I'm proud of my firm body and ample 36DD boobs and I'm certainly not ashamed to show them off.

So one night he set up the camcorder and filmed us as we got down to it.

I found it a real turn-on being filmed as I swallowed his penis.

He banged me in several positions before finishing me off doggy-style over the edge of the bed.

Filthy

We watched the film together several times after, and every time we ended up shagging each other's brains out.

Then one evening I came back from work early and I heard someone laugh and shout out "God, she knows how to fk!"

When I peeped through the gap in the door, I saw my man and his best mate watching our private movie!

Far from being shocked or annoyed, it gave me a real thrill to think that some hunky blokes were getting a kick watching me being so filthy. I yelled I was home and my bloke rapidly switched the TV off.

I was feeling horny as hell and after a quick shower I slipped on a silky short nightie with no undies and went downstairs.

I sat in front of my boyfriend's mate and deliberately opened my legs.

He gawped at my minge and soon had a bulge in his trousers.

I went to the TV and pressed play before telling my other half how he'd been a naughty boy, then returned to the sofa and told him to come and get some more.

Within seconds, he'd buried his head between my legs.

I grabbed his mate, unzipped his trousers to release his thick manhood and began sucking long and hard while pulling the shaft up and down.

Groaning, he asked my fella if it was okay to have sex with me and, before he could answer, I replied that someone better had because I was gagging for it.

So my man got up from between my legs and his mate started thrusting in and out of me like a train while my fella put his cock to my lips and I took it deep down my throat.

Altogether I was bonked about six or seven times, but I lost count of the number of orgasms I had.

Later my partner said what a turn-on it was for him seeing me get it from another man.

He wants to do it again, but I'm thinking word will get around and I'll be labelled a slut. What do you think?

DR, south Yorkshire

Tess says...

SEX should be fun, so carry on having a good time with your fella and his mate.

Dear Tess,

I WAS devastated when I split up with my girlfriend after four years together.

About a week after the split, I was surprised to get a visit from her mum.

She said she had come to tell me how upset she was at the break-up.

We shared a few bottles of wine and, as the night wore on, it became obvious she was coming on to me.

I often thought about shagging her – she's 45, blonde, and has got a great body.

So when she put her hand down my pants, I thought I'd go for it.

She told me how horny she was feeling as she took her clothes off and wrapped her boobs around my cock.

She then sucked my throbbing Johnson until I shot my wad all over her massive mammaries.

Since then we've had a couple more sessions and I was quite happy with the arrangement – until my ex told me she wanted to give our relationship another try.

I agreed because I love her, but I feel so guilty. When we visit her mum, the atmosphere is terrible.

We are now engaged, but I don't think I could marry her, not with this secret in the background.

What should I do?

DB, Teesside

Nympho lover has knackered me out

Dear Tess,

MY girlfriend is amazing and I really love living with her.

But my problem with her is that she is a raving nymphomaniac and I am finding it very difficult keeping up with her sex drive.

I work hard at my job and when I get home late at night I'm usually pretty knackered.

But as soon as I walk in the door she's there, in the front room, lying naked on the rug exposing her moist, shaven fanny and with a daft grin on her face.

She won't even let me take my boots off before she's got my dick out – slobbering all over it and sucking on my swollen balls before straddling my length and riding me hard.

Sex slave

It's the same story all evening. I hardly get a moment to have some food or watch telly until we go to bed at around 11pm.

And even then it's sex and more sex until eventually, at something like 2am, she falls asleep and I finally get some peace.

But I have to be up again at 7am, so I'm always shattered.

I don't know whether I can take much more of being her sex slave. What can I do to satisfy my girlfriend's desire?

MC, Essex

Tess says...

#HOT'N'HORNY marina VISCONTI

MEGA-boobed Marina Visconti has a secret fetish she has never told another living soul about before... She is obsessed with the fantasy of being taken from behind by a woman wearing a huge strap-on.

The 34E beauty, from Stavropol, Russia, has had plenty of sexual experiences with other women but it has always been just using hands and mouths.

Now she is desperate to get shagged hard by a female wearing a big nine-inch dildo.

She said: "I have this fantasy where a beautiful petite brunette treats me really roughly, like I am her sex slave. "And she bends me over and starts shagging me with a strap-on.

"In my fantasies the fake cock is huge – like the girth of a coke can and nine inches long.

"I'd love for my dream to come true one day!"

ALWAYS HOME OF TOPLESS BABES

BUSTY Angel Wicky may look like butter wouldn't melt but the naughty minx says she fantasises about being bossed about.

The beauty, who boasts heavy 32DD sweater stretchers, says she loves a dominant fella who takes control in the bedroom.

Angel enjoys role play where she plays hard to get and resists the fella's advances.

She said: "There is nothing hotter than a dominant man. I get so turned on by being bossed about in the bedroom."

"It depends on my mood in that moment. Sometimes I love being really submissive and eager to please."

"Having my bloke instruct me on how to lick and such his willy, or at what pace to ride him, will make me climax faster than I can say 'Yes, Master'."

"I like a bit of bondage...whips, chains, handcuffs, all that stuff."

"Getting to play in a fully kitted out dungeon would be heaven."

"I love the power games!"

WHERE REAL BABES SNAP THEMSELVES!

THIS is it...the only newspaper feature where REAL BABES show their boobs!

Self-shooting topless pics is a craze that's sweeping the country – but you don't need a swanky new smartphone to enjoy 'em – as we'll be printing the pick of the snaps EVERY week!

SEND US YOUR SELF-SHOTS!
selfshot@sundaysport.co.uk

SHOW ME THE HONEY!

WELCOME to interactive Midweek Sport – where YOU get to choose the stunnas appearing on these pages!

That's right fellas, we publish sexy snaps of the babes you most want to see – TOPLESS or even NAKED.

Every Wednesday, Show Me The Honey features the cute curves of the glamour girls you're clamouring for. This service – UNIQUE to British newspapers – is totally FREE!

All you have to do is drop us an email to request@sundaysport.co.uk telling us why you want to see your favourite girl, then sit back and let us do the rest.

LEILANI DOWLING

PRESTON plumber Shaun McDermott asked for the "sexiest photo we could find" of glamour legend Leilani, from Bournemouth.

Shaun, 36, said: "Me and the lads always chip in to buy Midweek Sport to read on our brew breaks, but we haven't seen that Leilani in the paper for years!"

"Could you whack a picture of her in soon for us please?"

No probs, Shaun. Enjoy lovely Leilani flaunting her 34Bs.

Haven't seen your favourite model for a while? Drop us a note and we'll put her in the paper!
Email request@sundaysport.co.uk

DIANA DOLL

DISHY Diana Doll was the pick of Geordie lad Simon Thornton, who thinks it's been far too long since he last saw her in the Midweek Sport.

Amateur referee Simon, 32, said Diana's 34C bosoms were the reason he started buying the paper and he always hopes for a glimpse of them.

Well Simon, we hope this saucy snap of Watford scorcher Dian helps keep you fit!

GAIL McKENNA

CABBIE Tony Parker did things the old fashioned way and put pen to paper to request this snap of 32D stunna Gail.

Tony reckons that Gail, from Ealing, north London, is overlooked as one of the fittest ever boobs-out models.

The 49-year-old, from Brighton, said: "Gail has that sweet innocent look in her eyes, but I know she'd run rings around me in the bedroom. "She is a gorgeous

NATIONAL DREAM:
Minella Trump

McCain out to Trump rivals in National

THE name McCain is synonymous with Aintree success and on the 50th anniversary of Red Rum's first triumph on Merseyside, Donald McCain will bid for his second Randox Grand National victory with Minella Trump.

Ginger McCain won the world's most famous steeplechase four times thanks to Red Rum's hat-trick in the 1970s and Amberleigh House's win in 2004, while the younger McCain added his name to the Grand National record books when saddling Ballabriggs to strike in 2011.

McCain has been missing from the Grand National start sheet since Across The Bay was pulled up in the race in 2015, but the Bankhouse handler could have found the ideal horse to end his National hiatus in style.

Minella Trump returned from a 10-month absence over hurdles at Bangor recently, but has won eight of his last nine outings over the larger obstacles and will fulfil an ambition of the handler to provide long-standing owner Tim Leslie with a Grand National runner when lining up at Aintree as a 66-1 chance.

McCain said: "He's in good nick and it was good to get the run into him the other day (at Bangor). It wasn't ideal to run over timber but there was nowhere else to go unless you want to get involved at Cheltenham."

"I'd sooner he'd have run in a chase, but there wasn't one so we went over hurdles."

"He did what we wanted him to do in that he's had a good blow and he's come back in good shape. We're all happy."

"He'd done a lot of racing and won a lot of races, so we just gave him a good break."

"It's not been that smooth in that we'd have liked to have got a run in

"He's a great little horse and I don't know if he's going under the radar a bit, as he knows how to win."

"He's probably not the most impressive when he's doing it, but that's probably the reason why he keeps managing to win, because he's never doing it by too far."

"We've got a good racing weight in a big field handicap, so it's a positive for sure."

"He's beaten some smart horses, including the Grand National favourite Corach Rambler."

"He's had a much smoother journey to Aintree and that sort of stuff and looks a thorough stayer and so on, but Minella Trump is in good nick and we're looking forward to getting him there."

He continued: "We're not there yet of course, but it would be very nice to have our first runner for a few years."

"It will be very special to have it for Tim Leslie, too, as it's been an ambition of his since I started training to have a runner in the race."

"To get there and have a runner for him would be fantastic as he's been a wonderful supporter."

ALL THE TOP TIPS FOR TODAY'S RACING

TRUESHAN

Stay True to last year's champion

TRUESHAN looks set to encounter his favoured conditions when he bids for back-to-back victories in the Barry Hills Further Flight Stakes at Nottingham.

Having rounded off 2021 by winning the Goodwood Cup, the Prix du Cadran and the Long Distance Cup, Alan King's star stayer made a foot-perfect start to last season in this one-mile-six-furlong Listed event.

Unsuitable ground meant he missed the Gold Cup at Royal Ascot, meaning he instead carried top-weight to victory in the Northumberland Plate on the all-weather at Newcastle.

The seven-year-old subsequently finished third behind Kyprios and Stradivarius when defending his Goodwood Cup crown, while a subsequent short-priced defeat in the Doncaster Cup only strengthened King's view his charge is nowhere near as effective on a sound surface.

With a little more ease underfoot, Trueshan got back on the winning trail on Champions Day at Ascot and should find the ground to his liking on his reappearance.

Daw Vega then looks able to give the same trainer and jockey another success in the Every Race Live On Racing TV Handicap.

The three-year-old steps up to 10 furlongs having looked more competitive over longer trips in his five runs to date.

Soft ground has also looked to his liking and he has the benefit of a run under his belt already this season as some rivals make their seasonal debuts.

Fix You is also worth following in the Racing TV Profits Returned To Racing Handicap.

The daughter of Night Of Thunder made light work of testing conditions when scoring on her racecourse debut at Thirsk in the spring of last year and was not beaten far in a French Listed event next time.

There was not much wrong with her first start in the best part of a year when narrowly beaten at Kempton recently and that should leave her spot-on for her handicap debut, with an opening handicap mark of 77 perhaps underestimating her potential.

Quercus Robur looks sure to go well at Catterick in the Happy Birthday Joanne Grimble Handicap.

Bought out of Richard Fahey's yard for 26,000 guineas in October, the four-year-old has since won twice and been placed twice from five starts to prove himself a sound purchase.

He was a little keener than ideal over an extended two miles at Southwell last month, which probably cost him at the finish as he was beaten a length and a half into third place.

Up a pound but down in trip for his return to the grass, Quercus Robur should go close.

Troubles

Arctician is taken to complete his hat-trick in the Unibet 3 Uniboots Per Day Handicap on the all-weather at Kempton.

Following placed efforts in January and February, the grey was not winning out of turn when bagging his first victory since joining Simon Dow at this track last month and a 3lb rise was not enough to stop him following up at Lingfield a fortnight ago.

The five-year-old has been given another 5lb rise for his troubles, but is clearly in rude health and should prove hard to beat.

It is not difficult to make a case for the Olly Murphy-trained Little Miss Dante being the best bet on Southwell's National Hunt card.

The daughter of Kay Tara was a hot favourite to make a successful bumper debut at Huntingdon in January, but was touched off by Dontyawantme.

That form has a solid look to it, with the winner since placed in Listed company, and Little Miss Dante may not need to improve much to get off the mark in division two of the Follow@theraces On Twitter Mares' Standard NH Flat Race.

KING KEV JOINS PREM 100 CLUB

KEVIN DE BRUYNE became only the fifth player to record 100 Premier League assists as Man City beat Southampton.

De Bruyne set up Erling Haaland for the seventh time this season, accounting for half of his league-leading tally of 14 and taking him to three figures since his debut with Chelsea in 2013.

The Belgian is comfortably the quickest to reach the landmark and here, Midweek Sport looks at how he compares.

By MIKE FRANCIS

162 assists in 632 appearances, 367 games to reach 100

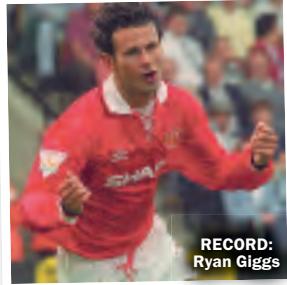

The former Man United winger's record will remain out of reach for the 31-year-old De Bruyne, and potentially for all comers given his extraordinary longevity.

He recorded at least one assist in each of the Premier League's first 21 seasons up to 2012-13 and is ahead of his nearest challenger by a staggering 46 per cent margin.

CESC FABREGAS
111 assists in 350 appearances, 293 to reach 100

The Spaniard was the previous record holder for the fewest games to reach three figures in the assist column, having got there by setting up both Gary Cahill and Willian in Chelsea's 4-2 win over Stoke on New Year's Eve in 2016.

He is one of only seven players to record four assists in a single Premier League game, for Arsenal against Blackburn in 2009. Remarkably Dennis Bergkamp, Jose Antonio Reyes and Santi Cazorla also did so for the Gunners and Harry Kane and ex-Arsenal striker Emmanuel Adebayor for north London rivals Tottenham. Paul Pogba completes the list, for Manchester United against Leeds last season.

WAYNE ROONEY
103 assists in 491 appearances, 445 to reach 100

Man United and England's record scorer, Rooney trails only Alan Shearer in the Premier goal chart but was so much more than an out-and-out frontman.

He recorded double figures for goals and assists in a top-flight season five times, his best return being 17 goals and 10 assists in 2013-14. His century came up with two assists in a game for Zlatan Ibrahimovic against Swansea in November 2016.

FRANK LAMPARD
102 assists in 609 appearances, 559 to reach 100

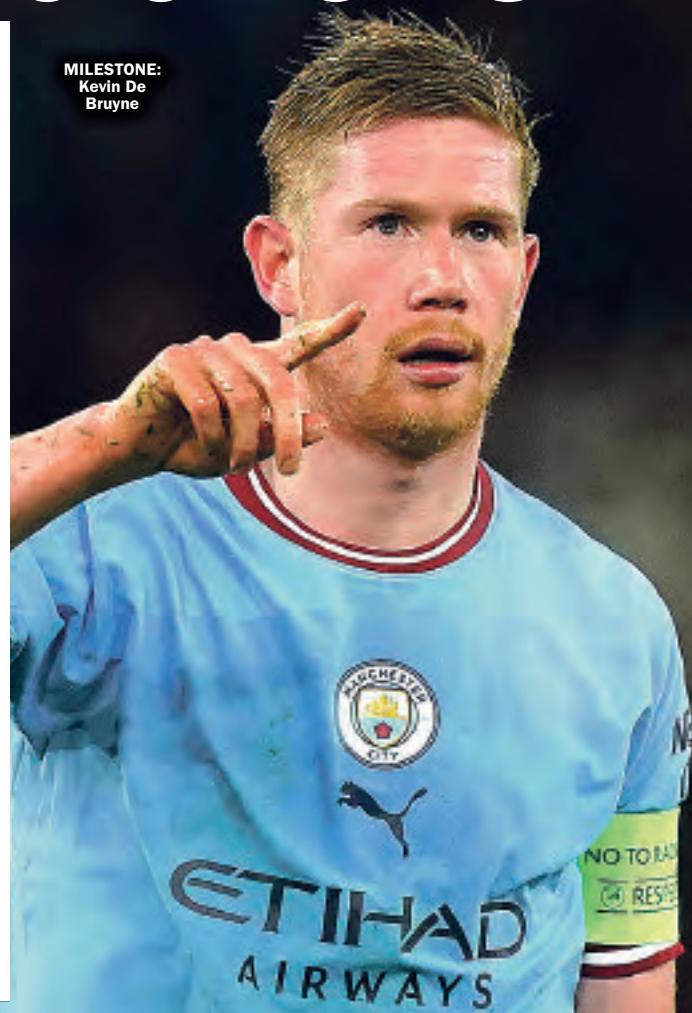

The highest-scoring non-striker in Premier League history with 177 goals, Lampard ranks sixth in that chart and fourth for assists. He reached a century of the latter during the 19th of his 20 Premier League seasons, his last with Chelsea, before adding his 102nd and last assist during his solitary season with Man City.

KEVIN DE BRUYNE
100 assists in 237 appearances

De Bruyne took his game to a new level at Wolfsburg and returned to the Premier League as City's creative force.

He set up nine goals in his first season with the club and then double figures in all but two seasons under Pep Guardiola's management. De Bruyne's 20 assists in the 2019-20 campaign matched the record set by Thierry Henry, for Arsenal in 2002-03, and he also had 18 and 16 in Guardiola's first two seasons in charge.

CHANCE: Sterling

Raheem the Real deal for boss Lamps

INTERIM boss Frank Lampard has backed Raheem Sterling to prove he is still one of the world's best against Real Madrid.

The England forward has struggled since his £47.5million move from Manchester City.

Lampard recalled Sterling in his first game back but the wideman could not stop Chelsea slipping to a 1-0 defeat at Wolves in the Premier League on Saturday.

Sterling has scored just seven goals this term but netted the crucial opener in Chelsea's 2-1 aggregate win over Borussia Dortmund in the last 16 of the Champions League last month.

They go to Real Madrid on Wednesday for their Champions League quarter-final first leg and Lampard expects Sterling, 28, to step up again.

"Raheem has been there and done it and there's history of producing," he said. "I think he's a fantastic player. He's been one of the best wingers in the world for a long time, at times, maybe in some people's opinion, the best."

"He's risen to games like that before in the past so that's something we'll obviously rely on in terms of this because some elements of the squad are maybe a bit younger."

"He is a player of a high level and understanding of the game that it won't faze him."

"I can't remember how many times I've referenced to young wingers when I was here previously at Chelsea, at Derby and Everton - watch Raheem Sterling and see why he scores 20 goals a season plus so I have the highest feeling for him in that sense."

"I just think he's a top player. Those things are always kind of like 50/50 for me - getting the right structure for the player and then the player themselves but Raheem has shown what a player he is."

Lampard lifted the Champions League with Chelsea in 2012.

He admitted there is no secret to producing in Europe.

He added: "There's a lot to it. Part of that was we parked the bus at the Nou Camp and managed to hang on for our dear lives!"

"But we did have a huge desire and a big character and a level of talent that have been striving for years to win a Champions League, so that one you remember."

DECEMBER DATE FOR AJ

ANTHONY JOSHUA has announced he will not fight again until December – just two days after saying he wanted to get back in the ring in the "next three months".

Joshua got back to winning ways last week by outpointing Jermaine Franklin over 12 rounds at the O2 Arena, the first time the Briton had had his hand raised in almost two and a half years.

The former two-time world heavyweight champion was hopeful of a swift return this summer and was linked with bouts against compatriots Dillian Whyte, a former foe, and Tyson Fury, the WBC champion.

But Joshua said on his

BOXING By ANDY MILLON

Instagram story: "My next fight is scheduled for December. Not ideal but everything is part of a bigger picture."

The 33-year-old had his nose bled in the early exchanges in his unanimous decision win over American opponent Franklin, where he bounced back from back-to-back defeats against Oleksandr Usyk.

Joshua, though, told BBC's One Show on Friday: "It was nine months since I was last in the ring before fighting Franklin."

"I don't want to leave it that long again. I want to be back there in the next three months."

As for which of his rivals he would prefer to face, Joshua was clear.

"Dillian Whyte or Tyson Fury? Well, 100 per cent Tyson Fury," Joshua said after the fight.

"That is the WBC heavyweight champion of the world. That's what it is all about, so definitely Fury."

Meanwhile, WBO light-welterweight champion Josh Taylor's defence against Teofimo Lopez will take place at Madison Square Garden on June 10.

Taylor was ordered to defend his belt against Lopez by the WBO in February after a proposed rematch with Jack Catterall had to be postponed.

A torn tendon in Taylor's heel saw his March 4 bout in Glasgow with Catterall fall through.

Top Rank chairman Bob Arum said: "This is a super fight, the junior welterweight king in Josh Taylor stepping up against the young, dynamic Teofimo Lopez."

"I cannot wait for these two supreme talents to step into the Madison Square Garden ring."

Taylor extended his perfect record to 19 wins with a controversial points victory over fellow Briton Catterall last February.

Cherries look ripe for Prem survival

O'NEIL CONFIDENT HE CAN KEEP BOURNEMOUTH UP

GARY O'NEIL has told his Bournemouth players they must be more clinical in front of goal but he believes they are on the right track in their fight for Premier League survival.

The weekend 1-0 win at fellow strugglers Leicester was a rare away win for the Cherries, only their second in 10 on the road, and it lifted O'Neil's side out of the bottom three.

The goal, five minutes before half-time, came gift-wrapped due to a horrible mistake from Leicester midfielder James Maddison, whose blind backpass was picked off by Philip Billing and dispatched beyond Daniel Iversen.

But Bournemouth were good value for the win, having created a string of opportunities throughout the first half and early in the second while limiting a poor Leicester side to only a few half chances late on.

O'Neil's only complaint was that his side did not put the game to bed earlier, with a Billing free-kick clipping the outside of a post and Iversen making saves from Billing, Dominic Solanke, Jack Stephens and Chris Mepham.

"It was a similar message at

By WES DERBY

Brighton where we weren't clinical enough and there's still work to be done," he said.

"We need to make sure we take chances because there could be a slip or a set-play goal which would mean you only come away with one point which would have been a travesty with how comfortable we were."

With the battle at the bottom so tight, even a short run of good form can make all the difference with eight games to go, and O'Neil's message was one of positivity.

"Whether the game is against someone in and around you it doesn't change your approach, but the lads have won four out of their last eight in the Premier League, they're in a good spot," he said.

For Leicester, it was a second home defeat in a week since the departure of Brendan Rodgers, and one that brought an angry reaction from the home fans who got behind their team at the start, but greeted the final whistle with loud boos and some chants of 'You're not fit to wear the shirt'.

News that Dean Smith is taking over until the end of the season has brought a mixed reaction from fans, but the Foxes are running out of time to fix things if they are not to be relegated just seven years after winning the Premier League title.

"At this stage these games are big games," interim head coach Adam Sadler said.

"It's fair to say the size of this game, there was a lot of hype around it, and all the players are bitterly disappointed.

"We're a collective. This is a time where we have to stay together. The job Mike Stowell and I have done this week has been pretty much focused on staying positive and I'm sure we'll do that. We have to stay united and keep encouraging each other in the right way and prepare for the fight."

"We're not thinking about relegation. The work starts preparing for next week's game. It's another opportunity to try and get some points."

Fight

"I think it's fair to say there's a little lack of confidence in the group at this moment," Sadler added.

"We're in a fight, that's clear to see, and I think it's really important to make sure the players stay united and ready for what's ahead."

"I thought there was a great energy in the stadium at kick off and then in the early part of the game and we really appreciated that support. At the end of the game they made their feelings known, we have to accept that."

"We haven't been able to produce a performance they can be happy with and that's fair comment."

DEC: HAMMER OUT TWO MORE WINS

WEST HAM captain Declan Rice praised the desire of the squad and believes two more wins will be enough to keep the Hammers in the Premier League.

A Harrison Reed own goal settled a dull contest 1-0 in favour of the Hammers against Fulham at Craven Cottage at the weekend.

David Moyes' side bounced back from a midweek thrashing at the hands of Newcastle.

It was anything but a memorable afternoon by the Thames but the win, a first on the road for West Ham in the league since August, gives them breathing space to the bottom three.

"The win is a credit to our defence," Rice told the club's official website.

"There are teams around us (in the table) who won and teams around us who lost. We can only worry about ourselves, and I think a couple more wins and we'll be just fine."

"It's a massive step and shows the character and desire. The club doesn't deserve to be where it is, but we are because we haven't been as good on the pitch as we were last season and now we're trying to dig ourselves out of it."

"It's a massive week, three games gone, and now we go on to a massive (Europa Conference League) quarter-final in Genk. There are a lot of positives to head into the new week with."

By PAUL THOMAS

Despite the win, the travelling supporters vented their frustration at Moyes – chanting "you don't know what you're doing" as he made second-half substitutions and unfurling a 'Moyes Out' banner, too.

However, Rice – who has been heavily linked with a move away from the London Stadium this summer – dedicated the three points to the fans.

"The fans deserve that 100 per cent," he added.

"They're the best, I've always said it. Obviously, when things get tough they voice their opinions and you've got to take it on the chin, but on the other hand for me, when they're at it they're the best in the world."

"I love playing in front of them, they cheer your name, they cheer the team...it is a Saturday afternoon, three points, and you don't get much better than that."

Training

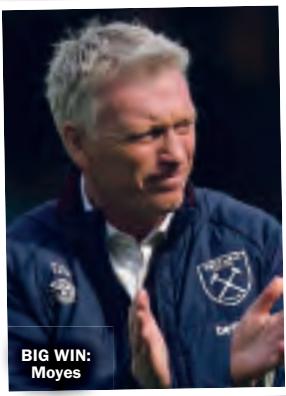

Fulham have now lost their last four league games as outside hopes of European qualification continue to dwindle.

They will be without captain and talisman Aleksandar Mitrovic for another six games through suspension but Willian – who returned from his own ban against West Ham – is keen to not let a fine season dwindle out.

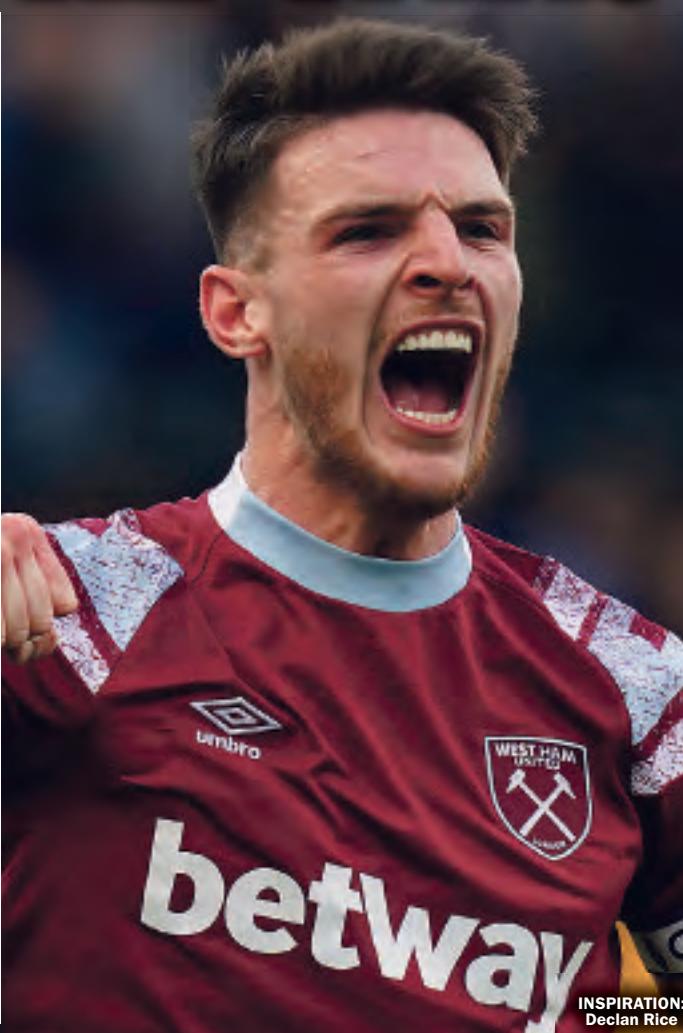

"We will try to improve in training and will look to win the games ahead," he said.

"We have been good this season, and played some good football."

"We want to get back to our best level. Of course we don't want the season to end on a down, nobody wants that. We want to do good things, and get back to that."

NO LOOKING BACK FOR ROY

By WES DERBY

ROY Hodgson insists drawing on past experience of relegation battles would be irrelevant—or even dangerous—in his efforts to steer Crystal Palace to safety this campaign.

The Eagles boss was coaxed out of what he prefers not to call “retirement” following Patrick Vieira’s sacking for a second spell at Selhurst Park, his side still sitting just three points clear of the drop zone despite their 14th-placed standing and first win of 2023 against Leicester last outing.

Hodgson has faced relegation before in his 47-year managerial career and wants to leave them consigned to the history books.

He said: “Some experiences are better off being quickly forgotten because they might taint your memory and affect your decision-making.”

“The recent one at Watford, that one doesn’t compare with anything else that I’ve ever come across in my football life, and so then you’ve got to go to Bristol City, but then we went into administration.

“We were playing games with kids from the under-18s that I didn’t even know existed in the football club, so we got relegated there. What did that teach me?”

“It taught me to be more careful about where you go.

You’re successful in Sweden and Norway and suddenly someone says to you, ‘come to Bristol City, come back to England.’ Without giving Bristol City a thought, yeah, I know where Bristol is, I’ll come back there.”

“At Fulham it taught me that for all the coaching you do, you end up staying in the league because of a player in Danny Murphy who is not even supposed to be anywhere near the penalty box...heads it into the goal.”

“I hope that there are a few of those around here, so when push comes to shove and all the work we do, you want somebody to say, forget all that, I’m going to go in there and finish it and keep them up.”

If experience is going to help you at all it would just be in dealing with a group of players who I know are under enormous pressure, who I know have the same goal as me.”

Palace’s destiny is in their hands and was helped by their impressive 5-1 win at Leeds that fired them up to 12th in the table.

Hodgson said: “We need to be certain we do the right things tactically, defensively and offensively and we show the right determination, which we certainly did against Leeds in the second half at least.”

100 NOT OUT: Son

Son hopes he'll inspire Korea move

TOTTENHAM attacker Son Heung-min hopes his latest milestone can inspire more Asian players to pursue their dreams after he scored his 100th Premier League goal.

An 11th goal of the season in all competitions for Son proved an emotional moment after the recent death of his grandfather and he was pleased to take another step back to his best following a below-par campaign where he has struggled for consistency.

"This was something that I dreamed for," Son said.

"Scoring 100 goals in the Premier League is a massive thing. I was really emotional because I have had tough moments in the last few weeks. My grandad passed away and it was not easy. I want to send that goal to him."

"I hope all the Asian players – especially in South Korea – look at this achievement and believe they can do it as well."

"It's a good thing for Asia and I take a big responsibility to be a good example to help the young guys. I want them to believe an Asian player can do amazing things in the Premier League."

"Sometimes you always expect an amazing season and it will be the same as last year but there can be more pressure. I'm the most frustrated guy but I see where I can improve."

"I am frustrated but I'm not the perfect player so I need to look at my weaknesses. The fans are supporting me and I need to take a big responsibility to do well for the rest of the season."

Son's landmark goal was not the only celebration in the Spurs camp with assistant Ryan Mason able to welcome the arrival of his baby son while set-piece coach Gianni Vio turned 70 this past week.

Tottenham's acting head coach Cristian Stellini added: "We celebrate into the dressing room."

"What I said was this week we celebrate 70 years of Gianni Vio, we celebrate a new birth in Ryan Mason's family, he has a new son and this type of thing you have to celebrate every time."

"So we also had 100 goals from Sonny. It's amazing to have this, it's normal that in football that when you win this type of match there are individual targets, but that target can create energy if our best players play for the team and for the win."

IT'S GETTING TOUGH AT THE TOP

KLOPP ON RECOVERY MISSION!

Liverpool manager happy with quality shown in rollercoaster Gunners battle

LIVERPOOL manager Jurgen Klopp admits the draw with Arsenal has given him something to build on in the coming days.

After losing to Manchester City and then only drawing against Chelsea in a disappointing display at Stamford Bridge, the Reds closed out what Klopp had said would be a defining week in their season with a positive.

They came from 2-0 down to draw with the Premier League leaders courtesy of Roberto Firmino's late goal but it was the nature of the performance, particularly in the second half, which gave Klopp cause for optimism.

"It's so important, this is not something now where we go home and don't get our arms down," he said.

"That's something we have to take and we have now a long week which is a big difference for us all as well. I like it, the fact that we have enough time to train, real time to train, real time to recover for a few boys and real time to train, bringing boys back.

"For Thiago (Alcantara, back after two months) it's super-important that he has a few training sessions on top of the few he had."

"Luis Diaz will be back in full and normal team training and available for the game so these things are really, really good news."

"Then we have to go again, this time Leeds (next Monday) – that will be a tough one but no excuses, we have to make sure we are ready again and build on today."

"I said after the Chelsea game it was a step in the right direction, probably a lot of people thought, 'What is he talking about?'; but it was a step from different points of view and this was another major step."

"We were part of a spectacular football game because we were good for an hour: OK but conceding in the first half an hour and then good, and we should have won the game – but we didn't – against the team in form, flying."

Defender Trent Alexander-Arnold, who provided the cross for Firmino after a delicious skip past Oleksandr Zinchenko, admitted the Reds finished the game frustrated they had not won after a much-improved display after the break.

Quality

"They're one of the two best teams in the league – them and City," he said.

"Every game we want to go and get three points."

"Disappointed somewhat to not get it but there were lessons in there that we can play and have belief to play against a quality side like Arsenal. We've shown on numerous occasions this season already that we can go toe-to-toe with the best in the league."

"Going two behind at home is never good but we showed character, got into the game, obviously got the late equaliser and a huge chance at the end to go and win it."

"We'll take the point but we know it could have been three."

Arsenal manager Mikel Arteta is confident his side will produce a reaction to the disappointment of dropping two points at Anfield.

Coasting at 2-0 inside half-an-hour, they conceded just before half-time and endured huge pressure after the break before finally cracking to an 87th-minute equaliser from Firmino.

That saw their lead at the top cut to six points, having played a match more than Manchester City and still having to go to the Etihad in a couple of weeks.

"We've been responding for 31

P OF THE PREMIER LEAGUE

HOPEFUL: Klopp salutes the Kop after a better performance against Arsenal games now. Every single day is a test," said Arteta.

"The test now is how good are we going to be on Monday, and how well will we prepare and play the way we want to play to beat West Ham (on Sunday)."

Arsenal were indebted to goalkeeper Aaron Ramsdale for a couple of late saves, one a curling effort from Mohamed Salah he tipped around the post and then a close-range scramble to prevent Ibrahima Konate forcing one over the line, to hang onto a point.

Magic

Arteta was full of praise for the England international.

"You need your goalkeeper if you want to win and be in a title race," he said.

"Look at how many times Alisson has done for Liverpool what he has to do."

"You need those magic moments from the keeper, we had some exceptional moments from our front players as well, to win in grounds like that."

Having not capitalised on their comfortable lead to press home their advantage, Arsenal began to retreat, relying on counter-attacks instead of dominating play as they had done, as Liverpool piled on the pressure having pulled a goal back.

Arteta hopes his side can learn from that experience as the title race heads towards its conclusion.

"If we score 3-0 maybe the crowd doesn't get too excited. After that they scored the goal and that changed the momentum and the hope," he said.

"Still though, in the second half we have to play more."

"That's the lesson, stick to what we've done in the first half, play with our personalities and that's the way we have to continue to play."

DONS BOSS ON EURO MISSION

ABERDEEN caretaker manager Barry Robson has eyes only on Friday's Premiership visit to Ross County, despite his side climbing into third place thanks to their win over Kilmarnock.

The Dons have climbed above Hearts into third spot and have a big chance of clinching European football for next season.

Robson said: "I genuinely haven't thought about the league position."

"That's what I am and that's where we are. We have a really difficult game against Ross County, which is a really difficult game on a tight pitch and we need to focus on that."

"Third place is where everybody wants to be, Hearts, Hibs and us. There's a long way to go for that, and we're not thinking about that at the moment."

£50M BIG MAC

United name price as Newcastle make bid for Scotland midfielder

By JOHN ANTHONY

SCOTT McTOMINAY is top of Newcastle's summer shopping list.

But, despite not being a regular at Manchester United, the Red Devils are demanding £50m for him.

The Scotland international has been largely left on the bench by Erik Ten Hag who prefers the likes of Casimero, Christian Eriksen and Fred in his engine room.

McTominay has done little wrong when given a chance for club and country and that has attracted the attention of Newcastle boss Eddie Howe.

He has lots of Saudi cash burning a hole in his pocket and wants to beef up his squad with the Toon looking likely to qualify for next season's Champions

League thanks to their excellent domestic form.

But he won't come cheap given that McTominay has a contract at Old Trafford until summer 2025.

So it will cost £50m to prise the academy graduate away from Old Trafford.

He is 26 now and will not want to spend another season kicking his heels on the bench.

To put that transfer fee into perspective, only Cristiano Ronaldo and Romelu Lukaku have left United for bigger amounts.

Newcastle will be reluctant to shell out that kind of cash with other options available.

The likes of West Ham and Fulham have also been linked but they would not be willing to cough up that sort of transfer fee.
